THE BALLROOM BAND

The Ballroom Band is a completely new countryrock band that choose to go straight ahead where the road was divided between roots country and alt. country. The band creates a mix of old and new that is genuine and loving. Armed with double bass, mandolin, accordion and lap steel, to mix country music with an attitude from the alternative.

The ammunition is eleven self written Christmas songs that do not fit into the usual x-mas flood of collections and nutra-sweetened Christmas CD's. This is music that refused Christmas traditions and went it's own way.

The results we see today is that rare kind of a meeting when it all comes together between the songwriter Pelle and the singer Martin, a guitar and a few bottles of lager. They sat there and sang their favourite songs to each other - five songs later, they noticed that they had exactly the same kind of favourite songs - and further more so, Pelle had finally heard the voice he'd always been looking for. Two months later, the band and the new songs ready.

On December 1 is the release of The Ballroom Band's debut album "Christmas time in the trailer park", and in doing so, the band goes on a tour. The CD released on their own label and is recorded, mixed and produced entirely by the band themselves. The control of layout and sound is an important part of the Ballroom Band, nothing can be left to chance.

The album takes you to the trailer park, lonely flats, winter hikes, melancholy, hilarious, serious one moment and the other with that good ol' twinkle in the eye. After the eleven tracks strong Christmas Pilgrimage, the linkage between the roots and alt. country, lyrics and melodies will feel completely natural.

This years Christmas gift is now here!

Merry Christmas amigos!
